Cut the yarn and start with colour 2.

Edge:

Start in the same ch space as you have done earlier, in the ch space you make. 1sc, 1 picot, 1sc in the same ch space, 1sc in the next ch, 1 picot)x7, 1sc in the next ch, 1sc in the next ch space, 1picot, 1sc in the same ch space, 1sc in the next ch, 1picot, 1sc in the same ch, 1sc in the next ch space, 1picot, 1sc in the same ch space, 1sc in the next ch, 1picot, 1sc in the same ch Repeat  in the rest of the row.

Iron the doily .

Edge:

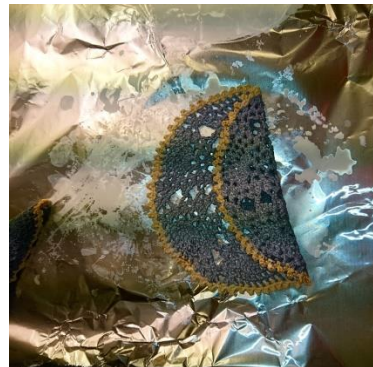

Tassel:

Wind the yarn 30 rows around your hand. Put a thread through the middle and make a knot.. Fold and make a knot around the tassel to keep it together. Cut evenly in the lower side.

Strengthening:

Put a piece of aluminium foil at your bench or table. Mix some wood glue and some water in a cup. Brush the gluemix on the doily, at both sides. Fold one side of the doily and roll it together to a cone. Form it with your hands until you are satisfied. The cone will sink together in the beginning and you may have to form it a few times before it's totally dry. Sometimes I give them a hand with the hairdryer in the end, forming it at the same time.

Put the cone together

When the cone has dried its time to put on the tassel and to make a loop to hang the cone in the christmastree.

1. Sew with a small needle trough the both sides in the lower side of the cone
2. Twist the threads a couple of rows around the tassel and make a knot at the bakside.
3. Fasten the thread at the back of the cone, ch 20 and sew it in the other side.
